

Baked, broiled, steamed, fried, sauteed --- we're cookin' on the cookbook!

Our staff is steaming right along on the cookbook to make sure it's on hand this fall in plenty of time for Christmas gift-giving.

Here's what to look forward to:

- ◆ It will be a big, fat, juicy book that will tease your tastebuds with somewhere around 630 recipes (we're still editing!) from Pumpkin Soup to Spiced Nuts.
- ◆ The beautiful one-of-a-kind cover art was created by a well-known area artist and member of the parish.
- ◆ This will be the fourth cookbook in the church's history. The mysterious first cookbook, circa 1956, called "Personal Recipes" Women's Auxiliary, Episcopal Church of the Ascension," has finally turned up (thank you, Howard Smith!). The second cookbook was 1976's "What's Cookin'!", and the third 1988's "Sage, Rosemary and Time."
- ◆ Several of the recipes in our latest cookbook — the title's a secret until it's published! — have been passed along through the congregation from the first cookbook.
- ◆ Our new cookbook will also feature something the Cookbook Committee not seen in the many cookbooks we've studied during this project -- several pages in which you all have memorialized and honored the good cooks and loved ones in your families.

- ◆ These days, we all lead busy lives and our recipes reflect it, with plenty of short cuts to keep prep time down to a minimum. You'll also find popular recipes from parish events, the ones we request year after year.
- ◆ And because our cookbook is a fundraiser for Property Preservation, you'll also learn some interesting facts about our historic parish.

Thanks to everyone who has contributed so many tantalizing recipes, and to those who have generously helped to underwrite the cookbook through memorial gifts.
